

WELCOME TO THE CNBC WORKFORCE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

Please see below for additional information on the WEC program, how to connect with fellow members and your CNBC team, and ways to make the most out of your membership.

YOUR MEMBER PORTAL

The Member Portal is your destination for accessing tools and resources that will help you make the most of your membership. Within the Member Portal, you'll find:

- Workforce Wire news from CNBC.com with the latest content related to success in today's business environment geared toward chief human resource officers, diversity and inclusion leaders, and top talent and benefits executives
- Links to resources, including audio recordings from breaking news conference calls, recent newsletters, and links to videos from events
- A member directory listing out your fellow WEC peers' names, titles, headshots, and contact information. You can also update your own profile in this portal
- A list of member events, including breaking news conference calls, the WEC dinner series with VIP speakers, and an annual summit

Instructions for Accessing the Member Portal

- You should receive an email from Justin Surgent, Membership Manager with login instructions that allow you to create a password and log in to the portal. To log in, you will use your email address. If you have not received your email about the portal, please check your spam filters and reach out to Justin
- To access your Member Portal, visit this URL: <https://www.cnbccouncils.com/log-in-to-cnbc-councils/>

MEMBERS-ONLY SLACK COMMUNITY

- The CNBC WEC Slack Workspace is an off-the-record hub for the WEC community to interact with each other and with CNBC. All member content is off-the-record unless otherwise expressed in the community.
- Direct messages between members are one-to-one communications that cannot be accessed by other members or CNBC.
- Your CNBC team is happy to facilitate member introductions.
- To access the Slack community, visit cnbcwec.slack.com.
- Please see attached Slack one-pager for full details on accessing the community.
